

PEARLEY LONG YELVERTON

Author | Speaker | Health Ambassador |

Pearley Long Yelverton was born and raised in Kittrell, North Carolina as the middle to oldest daughter of Joe and Sallie Long. Her foundation of faith, service, and hard work was formed at an early age.

Pearley is the longest living breast cancer survivor in Durham, having been diagnosed at 29 years of age. Since that time she has become an advocate and an ambassador for Black women and their families with this diagnosis. A pillar in Durham, North Carolina, she has supported many organizations, groups and individuals with her compassionate service.

She and her late husband, Clarence were married for over forty years before he passed. She and her “Boo” bore four children, Clarence Jr., Grear, Bernard, and Nikki. Pearly is the proud grandmother of Jordyn.

BOOK SYNOPSIS: When hardships threaten to tear her life apart, a woman must embrace her pearls of wisdom in order to endure. Buckle your seatbelt and ride with Pearley Long Yelverton as she shares the “pearls” of wisdom she has gathered along the way. Learn about lessons from being diagnosed with breast cancer at 29, living with Epilepsy in remission, raising a family, losing a child, and becoming a widow.

This memoir is a testament to God’s purpose and intentionality through life’s highs and lows. Pearley reminds you that hard moments don’t last forever. She encourages you to keep your faith, embrace new beginnings, and believe that all things are possible with God. Gather your own pearls of wisdom and hold them tightly. Pearley’s Pearls will help you stay on your road of faith.
